Second Year Led With First
Year Ten Points
Behind

At the Percival Molson Memorial Stadium yesterday morning October 20th, the M.S.P.E. held their annual Track and Field day.

Every event was closely contested, the Junior year giving their more experienced Seniors an exciting few minutes when at one time they were leading in total points. At the close of the meet, however, the appropriate points put the second year in first place with a score of 58½ to the first years 48½.

Two of the records of the school were broken, the first in the running broad jump when Miss E. Ball a Senior representative lengthened the previous record of 13' 11½" by two inches jumping 14' 1½", and the second in the running high jump, Miss M. MacGregor of first year clearing the bar at 4' 5", one quarter of an inch higher than the old record. Both Senior and Junior years put up a splendid exhibition in the various events and for a new class the first year girls excelled themselves.

In the Javelin Throw the Seniors won handily taking the first three places with a distance of 74' 2". Miss I. Causier was first but was followed closely by two other second year competitors, Miss K. Duval throwing 73' and Miss Lawrence 70'. The fourth place went to Miss L. Tuffe-land with 60' 3¼".

On a rather heavy track the time made in the sprints was not as fast as might have been expected. Miss L. Christie of first year was the first to break the tapes in the 100 yards, covering the distance in 12' 3-5", and was followed by Miss H. Drummond, a Senior entry, and Misses A. Davis and E. Maxwell both of the Junior team. In the fifty yard dash the best time was 6' 4-5" and was made by the winner of the first sprint, Miss Christie. Miss M. MacGregor of first year won second place in this event with Misses R. Nesbitt and M. Lukis of second year third and fourth.

Miss I. Causier, the winner of the Javelin Throw also won first place in the baseball throw with 176' 7". Two Juniors, Misses G. Sullivan and E. Day, were second and third with 153' 1½" and 140' 9" and Miss K. Duval was placed fourth with 147' 6".

The Hop Step and Jump was one of the most exciting events on the program. Miss E. Ball II year, who won the event, jumping 29' 4½", was hard pressed by Miss M. MacGregor, I year, who jumped 28' 1¼" for second place. Miss P. Coursier came third with 27' 8" while Miss E. Lawrence took fourth place with 27' 6½" to her credit. Both the third and fourth places were taken by second year students.

The Running High Jump was carried off by Miss MacGregor who broke the faculty record by ¼ of an inch, clearing the bar at 4' 5". Miss E. Lawrence II year, came second, height 4', while Miss M. McKenzie of First Year, came third, height 3' 7". Miss K. Peters, I year, and Miss M. Powell of II year tied for fourth place, jumping 3' 6".

Miss B. Thompson, jumping not nearly as well as she did in the eliminations, took first place in the Standing Broad, with a distance of 6' 11" winning 5 points for the Second Year. Miss D. Marshall, I year, came second, distance 6' 9½", while Miss L. Christie I year took third place, and Miss R. Nesbitt II year came fourth.

Miss E. Ball established a new record of 14' 1½" in the Running Broad Jump, the old record being 13' 11½". Miss L. Christie I year took second place, distance 14' 1". Miss E. Maxwell I year came third with 13' 1½" while Miss P. Coursier II year came fourth distance 13' 1".

The inter year relay was the cause of great excitement. The runners were practically abreast throughout the race. Changes from runners to runners were made in almost every case without a hitch. The Second Year girls made an enormous effort in the last few yards and crossed the line a scant 6 inches ahead of her first.

Rusty Davis To Entertain At Jazz Tea

This afternoon at five o'clock the second jazz tea of the year will be held in the Union. When interviewed last night the secretary of the Union stated that as these teas had always been well attended by the student body the executive looked for a continued patronage on the part of the students.

Morrice Davis will be present and it is expected that he will be assisted by his brother and together they will provide the music and entertainment. The nature of their entertainment is not known, but it will be an entirely novel nature.

COLLEGES AFFILIATED

Nova Scotia Agricultural College Completes Arrangement With McGill

Yesterday it was announced that an agreement has been entered into with Nova Scotia Agricultural College whereby the upper students of the Nova Scotia Agricultural College will receive training at Macdonald College and thus relieve pressure in the Maritimes.

The authorities of the institution realized that in consequence the students who completed their two-year course would be handicapped by proceeding to larger institutions for the completion of a degree course. Last week President Cummings, of the Nova Scotia Agriculture College, came to Montreal to lay before Sir Arthur Currie and Dean Barton, of the faculty of agriculture, a plan of affiliation by which a two-year course at the Nova Scotia Agriculture College might be accepted as the equivalent of the first two years at Macdonald College.

The plan involves among other things the loaning by Macdonald College of one or more members of its staff to the Nova Scotia Agriculture College for a period of one month per annum. These instructors will be responsible for the work at Nova Scotia in botany and entomology.

The university authorities have agreed to the proposal. This plan is in accordance with McGill's recognized policy of encouraging students from other parts of the Dominion to take at least part of their course in their own universities proceeding to McGill to complete the senior years, or after a degree, for research.

In addition it emphasizes McGill's historic connection with the Maritime Provinces, from which have come so many distinguished members of her past and present staff, and such a considerable proportion of her undergraduate body.

Students from the Maritime Provinces have always been accepted in the faculty of agriculture at the university on the same basis as those from the Province of Quebec, and they are charged no tuition fees for the first two years.

The hope is expressed that the scheme will be of benefit to agricultural education. It is becoming more and more realized that agriculture is a calling for which special training is needed just as it is for any other business. At the same time it is fully recognized that progress in agriculture is impossible unless there is a sufficient supply of men thoroughly trained in agricultural science.

To keep up the standard of this work and to carry progress still further involves a considerable amount of post graduate research. Macdonald College has always provided facilities for work in agricultural and allied research. Indeed, a large part of such work carried on in Canada has been done at Macdonald. Many of the researches have been of a special value to the Maritime Provinces. The most important has perhaps been the study made by Dr. F. C. Harrison of the discoloration of canned lobster, which has proved of the greatest commercial value to the industry.

There is no doubt that many of the students who will now come to McGill from the Nova Scotia Agriculture College will find opportunity which can not help but benefit the agricultural and the food-producing industries at large, and their own province in particular.

BAND WAXES WARM OVER TREATMENT

Athletic Board Decision Provokes
Strong Comment

TORONTO TRIP

Musicians' Attitude Justified
in View of Valuable Service Claims Casey

What originally was called for a rehearsal for the members of the McGill University Band yesterday afternoon almost became transformed into a council of war. Feeling ran high as result of the decision of the Athletic Board of Control not to contribute towards expenses of a trip to Toronto next week when the annual football classic between Varsity and the Red and White is scheduled to take place.

Bandmaster E. M. Casey presented a report of the state of affairs as at present existing. The Board contended that the band was of a purely non-athletic nature, and being such, no aid could be forthcoming from an executive which existed expressly for the purpose of fostering athletics. Casey reviewed in a convincing manner the valuable service rendered, by the organization to all major university functions and events during the past seven years. He was of the opinion that a crowd of fellows, who were at McGill primarily to study, but who devoted much time to work in order to do their bit with the 'college spirit' that seems to be so much requested from the McGill Athletic club, should receive some decent remuneration for their services.

Unfortunately, he continued the band had no fixed constitution and so could not derive the benefits of more settled organizations on the campus. He felt that he was expressing the feeling of all members of the band when he said that it seemed rather a petty and 'rotten' attitude that the Board was adopting in view of the fact that that same Board was materially prospering by the sheer good will of thirty odd men that never fail to come up to professional standard when appearing at football games and the like. A clear understanding must soon be reached with the Board, Casey thought. 'It was high time he added, that some real Athletic Board for the services of a campus institution that apparently is working for nothing, whilst the organization which it serves benefits.

CADETS SMART ON OPENING PARADE

Fifty Men Drill at New Armouries on Bleury St.

The C.O.T.C. opened its training season last night at the Royal High-lancers armouries when the battalion went through ninety minutes of stiff squad drill under Q.M.S.I. Clark R.C.R. Fifty men reported for the parade and ten new officers were on hand.

The new training quarters, in close proximity to the campus is more like a large gymnasium than the usual type of drill hall. All ranks of the unit seemed delighted with their new training quarters and looked forward to many pleasant evenings this winter at the Bleury St. military centre.

The Officer Commanding addressed the battalion at the conclusion of drill, and in a few words voiced his satisfaction with the showing of the unit on its first parade. He pointed out that the recruits had carried themselves exceptionally well for so early and hoped that by the end of October that they would be every one high enough up in ordinary drill to draw uniforms. He also advised those who intended to accompany the unit to St. Margaret's to hand in their names in writing at the Registrar's office at an early date as only fifty cadets could be accommodated.

It was also announced that cadets may draw their equipment at the Orderly Room today and Tuesday and Thursday of next week, and every man must be in uniform for the parade next Wednesday and on the manoeuvres at St. Margaret's.

GLACIER ICE AND ICEBERGS

Today at 5 in the Macdonald Physics Building, Dr. Barnes will give a lecture on "Glacier Ice and Icebergs" This will take place in Room 210.

Union House Will Install Time Clocks

At a meeting of the Union House Committee yesterday afternoon in the Union it was decided that uniforms would be purchased for the three porters.

The installation of time-clocks for the billiard tables was also decided upon. These clocks will be so operated that each man will punch a clock when he starts and again when he finishes, thus recording the whole time the table is in use.

DR. A. PETIT WILL EXHIBIT PICTURES

First Meeting of Biological Society Today

MEMBER OF INSTITUTE

Speaker is in Canada as Guest of University of Montreal

To-day at 5 o'clock in the Biology Building Auguste Petit, M. D. D. Sc Professor at the Pasteur Institute (Paris) Member of the Academy of Medicine (Paris), Secretary of the Society of Biology and Delegate of the Pasteur Institute to the University of Montreal will exhibit four films on (1) the fertilization and development of the egg, (2) cell division, (3) "slow motion" pictures of animal movements and (4) episodes from the life of Pasteur.

Dr. Petit's work has been in bacteriology and pathology and includes scientific contributions on the following subjects: histological proof of the glandular nature of the adrenals; histological diagnosis of uterine disease; secretion of cerebrospinal fluid by the choroid plexus; pathological histology and lymphoid transportations during trypanosomiasis and leishmaniasis. He discovered the presence of spirochaetes in cases of ictero-hemorrhagic jaundice in the French army during the war and demonstrated rats to be carriers of the parasite. The Pasteur Institute maintains a serological service available to all physicians for diagnostic purposes and of which Dr. Petit has charge.

Dr. Petit's most recent work has been in connection with the development of a serum for the treatment of poliomyelitis. So successful has been its use thus far that at the meeting in September of the International Congress for Pediatrics it was voted to request the Pasteur Institute to increase the production of this serum.

Dr. Petit is temporarily in Canada at the request of the Committee on Research of the Faculty of Medicine of the University of Montreal. He was delegated by the Pasteur Institute at the request of the French Government to establish and temporarily direct a centre of research devoted especially to tuberculosis. He has inaugurated the use of the Calmette vaccine for the prevention of tuberculosis and in this work has had the help of Dr. Bando and Dr. Fleming.

SCIENCE FROSH ENCOUNTER SOPHS

Battle Royal Occurred at Engineering Building

At 1.30 yesterday afternoon an ancient cat rolled through the College gates bearing a half-dozen or so blood-thirsty freshmen, out for a row.

As they disembarked at the Engineering Building, a certain sophomore, constituting an engaging receiving-committee of one, cordially invited them to step right up (backwards) and render a song or two. While the freshmen were pointed out, more or less politely, their determined intention was to do no such thing, a goodly collection of their clan gathered round, sensing a little excitement.

Then, at a given signal, they started up the steps in the way that Nature, and not the sophomores, intended them to, and the "certain sophomore, calling out the cohorts, waded in reluctantly but firmly to teach them a little lesson.

This plan, however, didn't seem to go smoothly as it should have, because in about two minutes the dishevelled but triumphant freshmen were standing at the top of the steps, grinning down at their erstwhile persecutors.

The freshman class expected that steps would be taken against them later in the afternoon, but nothing came of it.

READING GIVEN AT PLAYERS CLUB

Two Plays Selected For First Performance

The Players' Club held its second meeting, last night, in the Annual Board Room at the Union. Owing to the absence of President Archdale and Secretary J. Scott, Owen presided, while Evans acted Secretary.

A feature of the meeting, was the reading of extracts from the "Twelve Pound Luck", and "Rosalind", when different members of the club were asked to read certain parts, in order to facilitate the task of assigning roles in future.

Various plays were mentioned in connection with the winter programme, and it was decided to produce the following in November the "Glittering Gate", by Lord Dunsany, and Dr. S. Leacock's "Sunshine in Mariposa", a play founded on a story in the book "Sunshine Sketches of a Little Town".

The third play has not yet been decided upon, but shall probably be the "Shall We Join The Ladies" by J. M. Barrie.

The next meeting of the Club was fixed for next Wednesday and it is sincerely hoped by the executive that more men shall put in an appearance, as there is a lack of male aspirants.

R. V. C. Graduate Holds Position in Washington

Mrs. Woodhouse, a former student of R. V. C. is at the head of the Bureau of Home Economics in Washington, D. C.; she has been loaned by Smith College to the Bureau since last October. She is endeavouring to frame budgets and programs for household guidance.

Mrs. Woodhouse is a graduate with both B. A. and M. A. degrees in economics from McGill. She attributes to her vigorous Canadian upbringing the fact that she can be at once a successful wife, and mother and hold an interesting research job also.

Frosh Speaking Competition Is Postponed

The impromptu speaking contest for the trophy named after Col. Wilfrid Bovey, an ardent supporter of Public Speaking at McGill has been postponed until next Wednesday (Oct. 27) owing to the Arts Fresh — Soph. Banquet which is being held on Tuesday.

All freshmen are eligible for the competition and as many as possible are urged to enter. It will be necessary for those who intend entering to register at the office in the Union before 6 p.m. on Friday.

FOREIGN STUDENTS SEND MAGAZINES

"Vox Studentium," Tri-lingual Paper From Geneva

Magazines from India, South Africa, Korea, London, Eng., and Geneva have been placed in the S.C.A. reading room, and provide a wealth of interesting reading. Chief among them is the "Vox Studentium," an open Forum for students, published by the International Student Service (I.S.S.), in close co-operation with the League of Nations.

The thoughts of native Christian students in far away lands are reflected in these magazines. From Calcutta, India, comes the "Young Men of India," magazine, printed in English. "Unitas" and "Universitas" from South Africa, are printed both in English and Dutch. Korean students send a large magazine which is printed entirely in their own language. Internationally known reviews from England, including the Manchester Guardian, can also be found. The Outlook and the World Wide magazine, the latter published in this city, complete the list.

Most of these magazines are sent in exchange for the Canadian Student, which is the national organ of the Student Christian movement, published in Montreal, and edited by a McGill graduate.

The reading room at Strathcona Hall is open to the student body, and many students spend the noon hour and other convenient times reading. The magazines provided for the reading room tend to give the student an international viewpoint, and a broader understanding of the student world. Students in political science will find much opportunity to study international relations.

MANDOLIN CLUB HELD REHEARSAL

Preparations Being Made For This Year's Engagements

The Mandolin Club held the second meeting of the year last night in the Union Dining-room. There were several violins, banjos, mandolins, saxophones, and various other musical instruments in attendance, and even though they were handicapped by the absence of the pianistes, the music they played was of the finest type. Such pieces, "Cherie", "On The Riviera", and others were practised.

It may be interesting to know the Executive are very optimistic as regards this year's success. From what they heard last evening, they seem to realize that matters are surely and gradually, shaping themselves, and many of the members are also of the same opinion. It was announced again, that several engagements are on hand for the coming season. Mr. Rotsky, manager of the Palace Theatre, has already requested the Club to play for a new picture entitled, "The Quarterback". Also two or three radio-broadcasts are in store for the musicians.

PRUDENCE OF OWNING BONDS WAS QUESTIONED

Students Society Met Yesterday To Hear Reports R.B. Bell In Chair

R. B. BELL IN CHAIR

Mr. Fletcher Told of Necessity of Possessing Bonds

Very little new business was discussed at the meeting of the Students' Society yesterday, the greater part of the time being taken up with the reading of reports.

In the absence of President Amaron Robert B. Bell was chairman.

The meeting opened with the reading of the minutes of the last meeting held March 17th, which were adopted. Mr. Fletcher then read the Financial Report, details of which have been published at length in the Daily.

One item on the Financial Report brought up some discussion, namely that of the $5,000.00 which is invested in bonds yielding 6 per cent. The question was asked why the Union set apart such an amount of money to be invested in bonds when they were cutting down on their expenses wherever possible, and money was refused to some Student societies. Mr. Fletcher explained that in order to be able to get even short-time credit, which was necessary in some cases, they must be able to show liquid assets. The money therefore might just as well out in bonds at 6 per cent, as in the bank at 3 per cent. As to not giving money to some Student societies, these, he said were not being all they had asked for.

J. K. Sims, Secretary of the Union House then gave his report.—Mr. Chairman and fellow students: The Union House Committee wishes to report that since the last student meeting, the following have been done:

General repairs have been made to the Union including repairs to the landing on the staircase.

The heating system has been improved by the addition of new grates and an electric blower to the furnace by means of which soft coal can be used instead of hard. The cost of this installment was about $300. It is hoped that this addition will pay for itself this year in the saving of coal. Some minor improvements have been made to the Cafeteria, the most important of which has been the purchase of new curtains.

The Committee regrets to report

CHESS TOURNAMENT WILL SOON BEGIN

Two Teams Entered in Montreal Chess League

Plans for the holding of a tournament to select men for the Chess Teams were discussed at the meeting of the Chess Club in the Union Lounge Room yesterday. It was decided that every member entered for the Tournament shall play every other member entered. The winner of the Tournament shall make up the sixth man of the "B" team, of which five men have remained from last year. These five men are excused from this Tournament. The next six men will form the "C" team.

The secretary stated that although the membership had been more than doubled since the last meeting, new members are always welcome. Membership cards may be obtained at the Tuck Shop.

Dr. Day was unanimously elected honorary president of the Chess Club. It was mentioned that Dr. Day has helped the Club considerably in the past. It was decided that the Club should ask for a grant at the next meeting of the Students Council. Members who wish to take part in the Tournament are requested to send in their names as soon as possible. The Club expects to put on a Freshman Tournament, and also an open McGill Tournament, later in the season. Several matches will also be held against the professors.

Two teams will be entered in the Montreal Chess League, and it is hoped that they will do as well as last year.

Schedules for all Tournaments will be posted on the notice board and will also be announced in the Daily.

THE BAND AND THE ATHLETIC BOARD

One of the undergraduates members of McGill's Athletic Board of Control said something at yesterday's Student Society meeting that has stirred a certain important institution of this university — THE BAND. It appears that the Board were asked to consider the suggestion that it defray the travelling expenses of this popular musical organization to the annual Varsity-McGill rugby game that takes place next week in the Queen City. It also appears that the Board considered the idea, with the result that it was rejected as impossible on the ground that the Band was not an 'Athletic club.'

What was slated for a practice became a veritable council of war yesterday in band circles. Bandsmen feel that after six years of sacrificing valuable time to several rehearsals weekly, merely to enhance events under the control of our Athletic Board, that it should come in for at least some active sympathy and expression of consideration from that august body. Last year the Students' Council, which, incidentally, wholeheartedly backs the efforts of McGill's band, were forced to "scramble and scheme" to find a means whereby the band could be sent on one of the football trips. It doesn't seem fair that one organization should do all the worrying and paying for something which admittedly benefits to a great degree another entirely distinct body — especially when the benefitted organization, which, in this case is obviously the Athletic Club, has control of infinitely greater sums of money than the former.

There is little doubt that every student of McGill and every member of the Red and White senior squad is behind the band, realizing its invaluable assistance at the various intercollegiate contests here throughout the college year. The present state of affairs merits much serious reflection on the part of all those executives concerned. After all, students are here at McGill for the prime purpose of studying, and, if an earnest body of students devote much time to perfecting such an organization as the McGill University band, their work and efforts should be rewarded.

The Daily feels that the Band have just cause for chagrin at this treatment, and that matters should be cleared up as soon as possible — that a clear understanding should be reached between the Band and those organizations that benefit from the Band's goodwill.

A POST MORTEM.

After the meeting of the Students Society held yesterday, the fact is brought home to us, that there are generally two, and sometimes more ways of looking at a picture. And at a college like McGill there are always very many pictures.

To begin with, to properly examine a picture one should exercise care, and thought. Then, a proper attitude should be developed, and artists tell us that this attitude can only be developed after some concentration. Therefore before viewing a picture on the campus; this should be remembered.

Next, some of us have to use glasses; and not only do we use glasses, but we see to it that the glasses we are using are properly adjusted. You have never seen a picture in total darkness, so that light on the subject is absolutely imperative. Some students waste their time looking at pictures in the dark, with their glasses not adjusted, or worse still with the glasses of a fellow student.

Then too before we express an opinion on a picture we should reflect just a little. It is always indicative of a poor spirit to state an opinion of a work of art without exercising the reflection which it merits.

Last but not least we should consider the artist. He deserves always a little consideration. And let us reflect that people who live in glass houses should not throw stones at people who live in glass houses.

ONCE THERE WAS A FRESHMAN.

Once there was a freshman. He tried out for the senior rugby team and for the track team and for the basketball team, and for the hockey team. He was on his class executive and a private in the C.O.T.C. He was a reporter in the Daily, and acted in the Players Club. In his spare time he took a co-ed to the Red and White Revue, and all the college dances. As he walked up an down the campus, men nodded, and said "There's Mac." Girls said "how adorable." In one year he accomplished more than most college men do in a generation. Never did he let his academic work interfere with his college course. He was a rah-rah boy of the first calibre. His fraternity brothers predicted great things of him. Once there was a freshman.

Once there was a freshette. She attended the conversat, and she attended all the college dances. She was on her class executive, and played a heavy role in the Players Club. She sang in the Choral Society, and also played on the basketball team. Her engagement book, looked like a Society Blue Book, and her name was known throughout the college, and respected. She was to every social function, what "The Prince of Denmark" was to "Hamlet". The girls in her residence were confident that she would bring fame to her Alma Mater. The dean was not so confident, in fact he thought four years was too long for her to waste in college, for mind you never did she let her academic work interfere with her college course. Once there was a freshette.

Are you a freshman or a freshette? If so, we hope you get the point.

Looking Backward

Thirteen Years Ago Today,
Oct. 21 1913

The Liederkraenzchen Club of the R. V. C. is learning folk songs. The Liederkraenzchen club was formed last year for those students of the R. V. C. who were not old enough to join the Liederkraenzchen Club.

Mr. Mathewson, ex-president of the Cercle Francaise gave a talk before the Cercle made the statement that the French women are refined, elegant and cultured.

that magazines have been disappearing from the reading room, and we ask for the co-operation of the students in preventing this in future.

The financial statement of the Union has been published in the "Daily" for your consideration.

Concerning the future, the Union House Committee proposes to do among other things, the following:

To purchase a billiard clock to record the exact time each table is in use.

To encourage billiard competition between fraternities and clubs in an attempt to counter-act the decrease in billiard receipts of last year.

To purchase uniforms for the porters.

To increase the revenue of the Cafeteria regular Jazz Tans.

The Committee is pleased to be able to report that to date the Cafeteria receipts have been good. We would, however, request the students to be patient at the one o'clock rush, as the congestion in unavoidable and it is only with this noon hour patronage that the Cafeteria is able to show a profit.

The breakfasts and dinners are not so well patronized and we ask as many students as possible to use the Cafeteria for these meals.

We would also request all clubs, societies and classes, holding banquets, to secure prices from the Cafeteria before giving their order to an outside firm.

The Committee would like to hear student opinion on the subject of dances. We have already attempted a formal dance which we were compelled to cancel. Does the student body wish us to attempt another formal dance or are they in favor of informal, or, do you believe that the Alma Mater and Junior Prom are sufficient?

We would gladly welcome any suggestions to employ the Union as a means of bringing together in common, the members of the various societies and faculties of the University.

The "Daily" report was then given by A. R. Harkness, Editor-in-Chief.

Mr. Vice-president and gentlemen:—Like all the organizations on the campus, the Daily is ever striving to improve and I think that it can be safely said that some of the greatest steps toward improvement were begun last year.

The principal object of a newspaper is of course, the dissemination of news. This, the Daily has always borne in mind, but upon occasions, in the past it must be admitted has fallen down badly. A vastly improved system of assigning duties to reporters has made for the more satisfactory covering of campus events, and as regards McGill news, the Daily was able to do last year what it could not do previously, hold up its head to the local press. As a matter of fact, the Daily secured what the newspaper man calls a scoop on more than one occasion. It was the first paper in Montreal by over eight hours to carry an authentic story of the building of the new Arts Building, and the shortening of last year's term in the Faculty of Arts.

But the Daily last year extended its news service beyond the campus. A special wire service was maintained between Toronto Varsity and McGill. This brought many news items of interest to McGill, several of which the downtown papers would not have carried, others in greater detail than these papers would have presented them. This service is being continued this year, and there is every hope that it will be extended shortly, to include practically every university in our Dominion.

An improvement was also noted in the covering of out-of-town sports events. This was made possible by a new arrangement, which enabled staff representatives to be sent to outside points when the occasion demanded. It is impossible to go into details of these arrangements here, but it is of interest to note that the Daily's account for travelling has gone down, rather than up during the session just past.

Last year was the second in which the Daily had a front page devoid of advertising, and it celebrated this fact by a more restricted use of the seven column sweep. This year, as regards "layout" the Daily is even more conservative, believing that news can be presented just as attractively without the blazoning and shouting of the scare-head, the sweep and the other tools of the sensational press.

The editors have always felt a certain amount of gratification at the fact that many of the Editorials appearing in our columns have been reprinted by United States campus publications — in fact one of these reached England, was reproduced in part, and commented upon by one of the better known editors at the Empire's Capital.

During the year, meetings were held, at which several more doubtful points in regard the running of the Daily were cleared up. At one of these meetings, Mr. William W. Beveridge, former "Daily" editor, now assistant sports editor of the Gazette, and ever a friend of the oldest college Daily in Canada gave a most instructive talk to the members of the staff, including representatives from the R.V.C.

The "Daily's" financial statement which appeared in the "Daily" a few days ago requires but little comment. Publication and general expenses are much the same as during 1924-25. Travelling expenses, as already noted, were decreased by a considerable amount.

The appearance of greater number of illustrations than ever before in the history of the paper, accounts for the rather notable advance in the cost of photographs and cuts. It should be noted carefully, however, that the Daily only disbursed additional money when those disbursements produced a general benefit to the Daily's readers.

Toward the end of last year, it was felt that an improvement in the internal management of the Daily was required, and after a careful study of the subject, a new, and what the present editors believe to be a more satisfactory arrangement was arrived at. The Daily no longer has a president, because time made that position a sinecure. It is a policy of the Daily that every member of the staff shall work.

The position of sports editor was created, filling a long felt want. Under the sports editor there is a sports department. Whether the change has been successful is for you, not for us, to judge.

The "Daily" now has among its Associate editors, three men whose sole duty it is to write editorials; a fact which accounts for the filling of the editorial column every day. In addition there is a feature writer, who contributes special articles of varying natures.

It is by this time generally known that the Daily has moved. The new quarters, in the front part of the basement of the Union are far superior to the old, and make for more satisfactory work on the part of reporters and night editors alike. Part of the large battery of typewriters in the Daily office is the property of the Remington Typewriter Company, loaned free of charge to the Daily, for use of the staff.

To the above nothing need be added, except that it is the fervent hope of the editors, that such steps as they have taken, and may take will have the continued support of the undergraduates.

In giving his report the representative to the Athletic Board mentioned that the Board found it unable to send the Band to Toronto this fall, but some other means to carry this out will probably be found.

DANCE IN STRATHCONA HALL

The residents of Strathcona Hall were "At Home" last night to the residents of R.V.C. The evening's entertainment took the form of music, supplied by the Strathcona Hall Orchestra, and dancing in which some sixty couples took part.

The chaperones were: Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Howie, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. H. Hutchison, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Avison.

The committee was composed of P. D. Taylor, Miss Berry, Miss Saunders, and Miss Morrison.

The dance broke up at 12 o'clock with the singing of "Hail, Alma Mater" and "God Save the King."

Mining and Metallurgical Society Heard Paper

At a meeting of the McGill Mining and Metallurgical Society the officers, who were elected on October eleventh, were present:

R. E. Findlay '27, President.
James Owen '27, 1st Vice-president.
W. A. Jones '28, 2nd Vice-president.
F. R. Burton '27, Sec.-trens.

It was decided at this meeting to have papers read by the members every two weeks. These meetings will be held on Wednesday at five o'clock.

Yesterday a paper was read by K. M. Dewar, Mining '27, on "Saskatchewan Land Survey". His paper was one of the best given in the society recently. It was written on field work survey performed by Dewar in the summer of 1925. His, a third year summer essay, has received honourable mention by the faculty. Dr. Porter and Dr. Stansfield took this opportunity of congratulating Dewar both on the subject matter and the manner in which it was written.

This is a new experiment on the part of the executive and it is hoped that in the future some very interesting topics will be brought up for discussion at these fortnightly meetings.

Dr. Porter and Dr. Stansfield have offered a series of films which will be of interest to all members of the Society.

Arrangements are being made to hold a smoker in the near future. The exact time and place of this event are to be decided on later.

Any first or second year men who are interested in either mining or metallurgy should communicate with Mr. Burton, Tel. uptown 1475.

SCIENCE UNDERGRADS MEETING

Banquet for Entire Faculty to be Held

At a meeting held in the Engineering Building yesterday Science undergraduates decided to hold a banquet for the entire faculty sometime before Christmas. Although attempts in previous years to stage such an affair did not prove very successful, the students felt sure they could hold one this year with better results. A definite date was not decided upon, but it will be during the first week in December.

Another point which came under discussion was whether the Society should hold meetings from time to time in which might be addressed by different prominent speakers. It was decided to continue this practice, but a motion to add entertainment to the program was defeated.

W. A. James, president of the Society urged the students to respect the privilege of having a collection of magazines in their reading-room and not to tear and destroy the books as has been the case. Students found guilty of this offence will be severely dealt with by the staff, he said.

The 25-Year Parker Duofold Point

It Combines Both Lifelong Wear and Highest Writing Excellence

PUT the Parker Duofold point under a magnifying glass and you'll see why it gives you instant flow.

The two points of this super pen are so strong and so skillfully tempered that they do not have to bind together for support, but are independent of each other. Thus when the Parker is held point down, a thin film of ink is always in the channel between the points—ready to flow the instant the point touches paper.

To write, you do not have to shake a Parker Duofold or spring the points apart. In fact the Parker Pen will write immediately by its own weight alone, and without pressure or effort.

The Parker Duofold point is tipped with an extra large pellet of Iridium that defies a lifetime of wear.

This tip is hand fused onto the extra thick gold nib, tempered to yield to any style of writing, yet retain its original shape. And we can guarantee it for 25 years not only for mechanical perfection but for wear.

Step in to the nearest pen counter today and try your favorite point in a Parker Duofold—Extra Fine, Fine, Medium, Stub, Broad or Oblique.

McGILL PLAYS SUN LIFE RUGGER TEAM

Final For McTier Cup Quebec Division Play

An English rugger match which will be of great interest to all followers of the game will take place at the McGill Stadium on Saturday afternoon when McGill meet Sun Life. This match is a most important one for it is the final tie for the McTier Cup, the trophy which will be played against Toronto English the only competing team from Ontario, and the victorious side in that match will have earned the right to challenge the University of New Brunswick for the cup.

Although McGill beat Sun Life by a comfortable margin the week before last there is no reason to think that they will have such an easy time on Saturday, for the Sun Life will be playing a stronger team which will include Duhan their captain who did not play against McGill before. Duhan is a player of considerable experience who was most valuable to the Sun Life last season, and so his return to their side will greatly increase its strength.

However McGill have also changed their team for the better, and since their victory over M.A.A.A. last week they have been practising with renewed energy, and so they hope to again beat Sun Life. Both teams have among their numbers several players who know the fine points of the game very thoroughly which should make Saturday's match an exhibition of really first class rugger, and so anyone who is interested in the game or who wants to see it really well played should make a point of being at this match.

McGILL JUNIORS IN DECIDING VICTORY

Gill team to tear 50 yards down the field for a touch. His gains on end runs were also considerable.

For McGill Dalton, Altimas, O'Meara, Manley, Arnold and Don Smith (who also starred on the Junior team) were outstanding. Their work was not nearly as spectacular as Loyola's however and the score tells the story of the game pretty well.

McGill kicked off and Loyola brought the ball up to midfield. Before long, Savard of Loyola let loose a beautiful spiral, bringing the ball into McGill's territory. On McGill's third down, Dalton attempted a kick, but it was blocked by Pigeon and McCarey, the Loyola snap securing it. Smith then went over for the first touch of the game. In the second quarter, Dalton and Altimas made some good line plunges for McGill. By constant gains the maroon team advanced up the field and Cannon tore through the McGill team for a 40-yard run and a touch, which was not converted.

A few minutes later Savard sent a spiral over the McGill line and Arnold was downed for a rouge. The score at half time was 11-0 for Loyola. The second half opened with McGill scoring their only point in the game, when Dalton booted for a rouge. "Moose" Bannon, the Loyola captain, came on for the first time in the game in this period. Timmins, the Loyola outside, gave a good exhibition of tackling, and McCarey broke through the McGill line and blocked another of their kicks. In the last period Dalton, the red and white half, made a long end run of 45 yards through a broken field.

On gaining possession of the ball, the Loyola team counter-attacked by a fake kick which brought Bannon and the ball from midfield to McGill's 15-yard line. Anglin wormed the ball through the McGill team for yards and the Loyola team sent Cannon over for another touch, which Savard converted.
